

April 30, 2004

To Whom It May Concern:

We recently had the pleasure of working with Dawson Construction on an Emergency Department Addition and Renovation for Skagit Valley Hospital, in Mount Vernon, Washington. The project took place in an occupied hospital setting, requiring continual coordination with hospital staff in order to keep the hospitals emergency department fully functional.

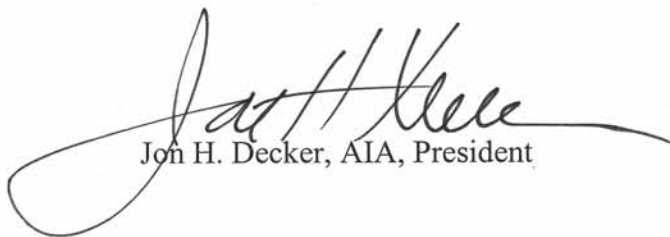

This project expanded the hospitals existing emergency room, and also involved site and building demolition, concrete foundations and slabs, metal framing, structural steel, interior and exterior finishes to match existing, and complete mechanical (including med-gas) and electrical.

Throughout the course of the project, we found Dawson Construction and Jim Quick to be an excellent team participant, always keeping the best interests of the Hospital in mind.

We look forward to the opportunity to work with Dawson Construction on future projects.

Sincerely,

DECKER ARCHITECTS, LLC

Jon H. Decker, AIA, President